It is with extreme pleasure that I welcome you to the 25th edition of the Roskruge Cougar Classic. Whether you are a player, coach, parent, educator, advertiser or simply a fan of youth sports, it is only with your support that this event can be successful. Thank you for seeing the importance of school sports.

In 1983, my friend, Joe Porter, and I had an idea for a four-team one-day tournament for elementary schools. We could only find two other schools with basketball teams, so we settled for a three-team affair played outdoors at Roskruge. Since then, the tournament has grown to include teams from all over the city and is played in high school gymnasiums and City recreation centers.

The coaches are all volunteers and spend countless hours planning, coaching, counseling, lining up games and arranging transportation to games. They see the value of interscholastic competition and the benefits that the players derive from learning basketball skills and teamwork at an early age. Belonging to a school team is one of the most cherished memories that many of us have. It is these volunteer coaches, along with the support of parents and school administrators that make these teams possible.

I personally want to thank the Roskruge administrators through the years who have enthusiastically supported this tournament. They include Conrado Gómez, Carmen Campuzano, Theresa Roybal, Wade McRae, Maria Marin, and Cristina Lugo. Also a huge thank you goes out to the Tucson High administrators who have allowed us to use the THS gym for many, many, years. Former coach Jerry Curtis invited us in several years ago and thanks to people like Tom Lundy, Chuck Holman, Herman House and Gary Lewis, we have been welcomed every year since.

Throughout the years, other high schools have provided their facilities for the Roskruge Cougar Classic. For that, I am grateful. This year, a big thank you goes out to Dan Bailey, Pablo Madrid and Lyn Barefoot at Catalina, Carlos Armendariz at Pueblo, and Mike Katherina at Northwest Center. Thanks to the generosity of these people and others like them, the players are experiencing quality facilities throughout the tournament.

Finally, the biggest thank you goes out to my family. Without their never-ending support, the Cougar Classic would not exist. They are willing to help in whatever way I need them whether it be drawing up the brackets, supervising the sites, scorekeeping and timing, manning the snack bar, coaching, officiating, cleaning up after games, or dealing with any of the dozens of unexpected situations that come up during the tournament. Thank you Jessie, Tony, Kim, Carlo, JJ, Rosina, Mom, Sylvia, Dorothy, Stein and Mike. Sincerely, Dale López
